Stum-Runner.

Mr. Harry Stum, a popular clerk in Wilson & Co.'s Mammoth Store, Fordsville, and Miss Hettie Runner, of Hadly, Warren county, were married Wednesday, the 30th, ult., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John Runner. The bridal party arrived at Fordsville Thursday evening where an elegant reception awaited them. The contracting parties are most estimable young people and the REPUBLICAN joins a host of triends in wishing them a long, prosperous and happy life.

"The Moneyless Man."

Major Henry T, Stanton, of Frankfort, will lecture in Hartford Friday night, December 16. Major Stanton is one of Kentucky's best writers, being the author of the "Moneyless Mau," which has a world wide reputation, and numerous other poems, of pneumonia. He leaves a family which are equally as good. The two Societies of the College have taken hold of the matter and will use every effort to have a crowd here. Everythe remains were interred in the cem- body should come out and hear him. A small admission fee of 25c will be charged, which will be donated to the libraries of the College. Prof. Mc-Henry Rhoads recommends Major Stanton highly.

Special Notice.

To all the fair damsels with whon Mr. R. E. Lee Simmerman flirted and all who hitherto smiled on him at the College, we give special notice that he is now with the popular Kahn's Trade Palace, where he will, with a bright, sunny smile, be glad to see his many friends.

With Kahn's Trade Palace now is Lee Always busy as a bee. Go and see him, watch him smile, He's a salesman, the latest style.

Meador-Herndon.

Dr. J. W. Meador and Miss Mattie Herndon, Trisler, were married on last Tuesday week at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Travis Herndon. Dr. Alva Jones and Miss Etta Dalton were the attendants. The wedding was quite unexpected, as the Doctor was preparing to go to Cincinnati on Thursday to attend a course of lectures and had invited a number of friends in to take supper with him before his departure. When the guests were surprised to be called into the parlor where they heard Dr Byers pronounce the words that made the contracting parties man and wife.

Shot Dead.

A negro whose name we could not learn, was shot and killed at the Big Cut on the new Fordsville road, last Sunday night a week ago. It seems that the negroes employed on the Horse Branch end of the road obtained some whisky late Sunday evening and at night some of them got " funny," The one in particular went into the rude storehouse, which at the time was kept by an overbearing, heartless fellow, by the name of Thompson. He and the negro had some harsh words when he took out his pistol and shot the negro above the heart. The latter lived only a few minutes. The negro was making no demonstrations that could justify such a course, and the public sentiment of the neighborhood condemns the act as wilful murder. Thompson fled at once and has not been arrested.

To Marry. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Ben D. Ringo to Miss Emma Ryan December 14th at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Ryan, at Schochoh, Logan county. Both contracting parties are well and favorably known here and are very popular. Mr Ringo is a rising young lawyer and one of the editors of the Hartford Herald, and altogether is a first-class young gentleman in every particular, Miss Ryan has many friends here, having at one time been connected with the College, who togather with her many friends at her home, join us to wishing the young people all the happiness they so justly

At Rest.

On Monday evening, Nov. 30th, at o'clock, Mrs Maggie Martin died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Morton, Sulphur Springs. The remains, accompanied by Mrs. J.W. Tompkins, sister of the decased, Mrs. Sam Morton, Miss Vine Alexander, Owensboro, and A. S. Aull, Sulphur Springs, were taken to Owensboro by the way of Fordsville. Dr. Boyet conducted the funeral sevices in Elmwood Cemetery in the presence of a number of friends and relatives after which the remains were laid to rest. Thus a beautiful life

HAYNESVILLE. Dec. 6 .- Jerry Voyles died on the 17, leaving a wife and two little children in a helpless condition. Also, sister Eva Voyles, of Roseville, died the 23d, leaving a husband and one child. Her funeral took place at Panther Creek Cemetery.

We have been blessed with services this winter; five in one mile and a half of us, all of which I have attended the most of the time.

The first meeting was held at Haynesville C. P. Church conducted by a lady preacher, Rev. Louisa M. Woosley, of Caneyville. It was a grand success, all denominations joined in in the good work. The meeting only lasted two weeks, in which time there were fifty conversions. Sister Woosly is an evangelist, and is regarded as a splendid preacher. As an evidence that her ministry was appreciated the brethren gave her a purse

The meeting at the Baptist Church. es, Zion. Roseville and West Point were very good. At the last named place the meeting has just closed with splendid success. Rev. Coleman was the leading spirit in this meeting.

We have two debating societies, one at Haynesville and the other at Sour Wood. James Black and daughters visited in Haynesville last week. Jimmie Lyons, of Hartford, visited friends in the community Saturday EINNA. and Sunday.
